Let's listen in to a (hypothetical) conversation between some players...

Alice: Hi Bob, want to play some Bridge on Thursday evening?

Bob: Maybe, Alice, but it would make me a bit tired for work on Friday.

A: This won't. It's only half a session and it'll all be over by 9pm. If you want, after the match we can chat and review our play over a glass of cocoa — that'll help you sleep for work the next day!

B: Oh, OK, where do I have to go?

A: Nowhere! Just stay at home, finish dinner, and meet me online for 7:30pm.

B: Online? I am useless with technology. And doesn't that mean we'll be beaten up by all those good players?

A: RealBridge is really simple. You can use Google, Bob, so you can use RealBridge. And they have free Q&A taster sessions where we can check out our video and microphones, ask any questions, and play a couple of boards.

A: And they are creating divisions in which we play people of our own ability from anywhere in NSW. Those city slickers will probably be in a higher division than us! They even have special categories to group people with less than 35 masterpoints together.

B: So how does the half-session work?

A: As I understand it, it's a bit like a football league. We play one 12-board match each week for a "season" of eight weeks. Depending on how we do we might be promoted or relegated so that we are playing pairs of similar ability next "season".

B: OK, and only $30 each for the whole season! Where do I sign up?

A: On MyABF of course! The first ever season starts the first Thursday in July, thru the last Thursday in August. Chas will play with me on your birthday, and I can also arrange substitutes for when we are in Coffs Harbour if you like.

B: Great! I'll put our names down on MyABF. Thanks for the invite, Alice.
